

Cytokine IDELISA™ Kits Available From ID Labs

With the ELISA assay system, pre-coated monoclonal antibodies generated against the target cytokine / growth factors are used to capture picogram levels of the cytokine / growth factor in a sample. The kits are compatible with non-particulate serum, plasma, and tissue homogenate / cell culture supernatants. Results can be obtained in as little as 4 hours.

Assays for Rapid Analysis of Protein Expression

IDELISA™ Reporter ELISA Kits

- To quantitatively measure specific proteins in cells, tissue, and serum
- Ideal for studying miRNA function in mammalian cells and animals
- Precise, fast, and easy-to-use

The IDELISA™ Reporter Assays are powerful tools in functional genomics and drug discovery for assessing the biological impact of siRNAs, proteins, and small molecule compounds. They are ideal for measuring RNAi knockdown, because they are much simpler and easier to use than RT-PCR analysis or Western analysis.
